

I do not feel that the FCC should implement new laws regarding the telephone privacy act in Indiana. I used to receive anywhere from three up to as many as twelve calls in one day. Now, I receive, at the most, one or two calls from solicitors a day. I greatly appreciate the lower volume of calls and would be disappointed if the laws were altered.